DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The attempt to incorporate subject matter into this application by reference to JIS B0601-1994 is improper because applicants may not incorporate essential subject matter from a foreign publication. The JIS standard is essential because claims 7 and 14 now include this specific JIS. The incorporation of the JIS should be made to a logical portion of the specification and include all drawings, which must be added as Figures with the next available figure number.

The incorporation of essential material in the specification by reference to a foreign application or patent, or to a publication is improper. Applicant is required to amend the disclosure to include the material incorporated by reference. The amendment must be accompanied by an affidavit or declaration executed by the applicant, or a practitioner representing the applicant, stating that the amendatory material consists of the same material incorporated by reference in the referencing application. See In re Hawkins, 486 F.2d 569, 179 USPQ 157 (CCPA 1973); In re Hawkins, 486 F.2d 579, 179 USPQ 163 (CCPA 1973); and In re Hawkins, 486 F.2d 577, 179 USPQ 167 (CCPA 1973).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 1 has been amended to specify a "substantially-cylindrical electroconductive substrate" and a "substantially-cylindrical intermediate transfer member". Claim 8 has been amended to specify a "substantially-cylindrical electroconductive substrate". The Examiner has carefully reviewed the specification to find basis for this amendment but cannot find written description for these features within the meaning of this section of code. Although cylindrical electroconductive substrates and cylindrical intermediate transfer members are disclosed there is no disclosure of a shape other than cylindrical, particularly not "substantially-cylindrical". If applicants believe that basis for the amendment is present in the specification they are asked to refer the Examiner to this basis by page and line.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 4 is indefinite as amended because the features of the kinetic frictional deviation factor have been removed from the claims. The Examiner suggests that this claim be made dependent on claim 2 to obviate the rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
